Conference Theme: Arctic Fisheries, Polar Silk Road, and Sustainable Development Practices

We cordially invite proposals for oral presentations at the 7th China-Nordic Arctic Cooperation Symposium. Proposals are welcomed from researchers affiliated with universities, research institutes, think tanks and organizations. All presentations will focus on Arctic-related issues, within one of the session topics:

• Session I – Polar Silk Road: Vision, Progress and Outlook

1. Arctic sea routes as the blue economic corridor: towards a regularized utilization?
2. Arctic energy development: sustainability and economic viability
3. Arctic infrastructure investment: What could China contribute?

• Session II – Arctic Fisheries

1. Biology and data collection of fish resources
2. Fisheries management and regulations
3. Economic and culture consideration in fisheries
4. Scientific cooperation and conservation between Arctic and non-Arctic states

• Session III - China-Nordic Policy Synergies on Arctic Sustainable Development

1. A one-year retrospect of China's Arctic Policy and its interplay with Nordic Arctic Policy
2. Win-win cooperation between China and the Arctic: Achievements and prospects
3. Common response to Arctic trans-regional challenges: Climate change, ocean pollution, and indigenous issues etc.

The 7th China-Nordic Arctic Cooperation Symposium is an international and multi-disciplinary event expected to draw researchers, industry representatives, policy-makers and community leaders to present, debate and discuss research findings and issues relating to international Arctic cooperation. <https://www.cnarc.info/symposia>

The symposium will be held back-to-back to the Arctic Circle China Forum in Shanghai, 10-11 May 2019

Abstracts (250–400 words)

Deadline for Abstract Submission: March 11, 2019 (acceptance of abstracts March 18)
